CROWN PRINCE'S HUNTING DEFENSES ARE FALLING

Americans and British Co-operating in Drive East of Cambrai Took 1,200 Prisoners and French Captured More Than 3,000

London, Oct. 19.—The British are continuing their advance on the Flanders front north of the Senne canal, Field Marshal Haig announced to-day.

Southeast of Le Cateau, where British and American troops are operating, Bazuel and Mazinghen have been captured. The British have advanced more than six miles east of Douai, and they are in contact with the Germans east of Vred and Catelet in that area.

The statement reads:

"We made progress yesterday evening northeast of Bohain, capturing the village of Mazinghen and completing the capture of Bazuel."

"North of the Senne canal the advance continues. We have driven the German rear guards from Emerchicourt and Pecquencourt, and are in contact with the enemy east of Vred and Catelet."

"Farther north our advance detachments have crossed the Maroe river between Sainghin and Cherey and are approaching the latter village."

COUNTER-ATTACKS

HALTED BY YANKEES

American Patrols Advanced North of Cote de Chastillon—Find Infernal Machines in German Dugouts.

With the American Army Northwest of Verdun, Friday, Oct. 18.—(By the Associated Press).—Counter attacks were made by the Germans this morning east of the Meuse river, but they were easily repulsed. There were lively artillery duels during the morning, but little infantry fighting.

American patrols have established outposts lines north of Cote de Chastillon. They have partially cleaned out Loges wood and penetrated farther into Banthevillie wood.

In captured dugouts in the territory recently taken by the Americans, infernal machines have been discovered. These were operated by mercury thermometers, the bombs exploding when a certain temperature is reached.

During the advance yesterday the American troops captured 20,000 gallons of German gasoline.

GERMANS DANCING

WHEN COUNTRAI FELL

Were Celebrating the Return of Peace on the Night When Important City Was Captured.

With the Allied Armies in Belgium, Friday, Oct. 18.—(By the Associated Press).—It has been learned from a resident of Courtrai that German cavalry officers were giving a ball there, celebrating the return of peace on the night the city was taken. At the middle of the dance, British infantry, which had broken through the defenses to the west, stormed into the town and the German cavalry dandies had to run for their lives.

FRENCH CAVALRY

ARE NEAR GHENT

They Were Reported to Have Entered the Outskirts of That Important Belgian City—Allies Advance Rapidly on Coast Sector.

With the Allied Forces in Flanders, Friday, Oct. 18.—10 p. m.—(By the Associated Press).—French cavalry were reported to-night to have reached the outskirts of Ghent. There is no official confirmation.

The infantry is pushing fast after the mounted force.

The reports indicate a continuation of the rapid allied advance in the Belgian coast sector.

The British are meeting with little opposition in the Lille salient and to the northward. In most places difficulty is found in keeping contact with the enemy's main forces, owing to the rapidity of the retreat.

GERMANS FORCED IN HARD STRAITS

Must Make Conversion of Their Front Because of Victories of the Allies Recently.

Paris, Oct. 19.—The Germans still are on the run. The victories of this week have obliged them to make a conversion of the front on which they are engaged and that is a ticklish operation under the circumstances.

General Ludendorff is swinging back his whole right, using as a pivot the plateau through which runs the canal from the Oise to the Sambre, with the forests of De Normal and Du Nouvion as supports to his rear. He had concentrated all his available forces there, and notwithstanding the stout blows delivered by Generals Rawlinson and Debeney the pivot still holds.

The situation thus may be summed up as a race between the allies seeking to knock out this prop and the Germans trying to get back on the line of the Escaut, Ghent and Valenciennes without too much damage. They will attempt to make a stand on this line, in all probability, as it is the shortest line available, but the odds seem against the enemy.

King Albert's army is pressing Ludendorff hard. He may be driven farther and faster than his plans provide for, and in addition to that he has the task of finding troops to cover another weak spot, namely, the Stenay gap, the back door to the Rhineland through Luxembourg, which is being tirelessly assailed by General Gouraud and the American armies. Notwithstanding all his efforts, the German commander has not been able to prevent this slow but sure Franco-American advance.

ALLIES IN RUSSIA RETREAT.

Fall Back Before Greatly Superior Forces on Dvina River.

Archangel, Northern European Russia, Thursday, Oct. 17.—(By the Associated Press).—Allied forces on the Dvina have been withdrawn slightly more than six miles in the face of an attack by greatly superior forces, which had been reinforced from Petrograd and apparently commanded by competent officers. The withdrawal was successful under a severe bombardment.

At last reports, the bolshevik reinforcements were reported advancing and the allied forces were under a hail of shrapnel shells and "pom-poms." Occasionally a six-inch shell from a bolshevik gunboat or a land battery would strike.

The positions abandoned by the allies were held for a week against greatly superior forces. The allies operating along the Dvina and Vega rivers have been handicapped by a fall of the water, which left boats stranded on the sand bars and barred progress by gunboats at critical times.

TOOK 1,200 PRISONERS

AND SEIZED 12 GUNS

British and American Troops Made Advance of Four Miles Thursday Southeast of Le Cateau.

With the Allied Armies in France and Belgium, Oct. 18, 10 p. m.—(By the Associated Press).—British and American troops southeast of Le Cateau captured 1,200 prisoners and 12 guns to-day and have advanced about four miles since the attack began yesterday morning. The British now are more than three miles southeast of Lille. On the Belgian coast, British warships are shelling the retreating Germans.

WASSIGNY TAKEN

And Haig Forces Have Also Captured Ribeaupville.

London, Friday, Oct. 18.—In continuation of the offensive south of Le Cateau, Field Marshal Haig's troops have captured the village of Wassigny, the British commander reported to-night.

The village of Ribeaupville, north of Wassigny, also has been taken and British troops have entered Bazuel, still farther north. More than 1,200 prisoners and a few guns were taken in the day's fighting.

The statement says: "Fighting their way forward despite heavy resistance, our troops have once more driven the enemy from the positions taken up by him. We have captured the villages of Wassigny and Ribeaupville and have entered Bazuel, where fighting still is taking place. Over 1,200 prisoners and a few guns have been taken."

YANKEES WON VICTORY IN AIR

And Every One of 140 Airplanes Returned to American Lines

GERMAN POSITIONS HEAVILY BOMBED

In the Operations a Dozen German Planes Were Brought Down

With the American Army Northwest of Verdun, Oct. 19.—11 a. m.—(By the Associated Press).—All the aviators who took part in the all-American bombing expedition behind the German lines northwest of Verdun yesterday have been accounted for. One of the 140 airplanes taking part in the raid had been reported missing, but it returned during the night.

Latest reports from the different squadrons show that the scout planes in protecting the bombers brought down twelve enemy machines. Observers report that excellent results were obtained at the various points bombed by the expedition. While the bombing squadrons attacked the towns and villages, two squadrons of pursuit planes, flying at low altitude, attacked enemy troops along the roadways with small bombs and machine-gun fire.

KILLING FLEEING FOE FAST.

Allies' Cannon and Airplanes Firing on Germans in Narrow Pass.

With the Allied Armies in Belgium, Friday, Oct. 18.—(By the Associated Press).—Lille is fast being left behind by the advancing Fifth British army. In spite of German posts established north of Roubaix and Turoing, these rich manufacturing cities have been taken. The Germans blew up the bridges leading into Bruges and left strong rear guards there, but these forces were sacrificed by the enemy while the main body of his troops moved eastward from the city and those near the coast hastened to escape.

Belgian airmen have worked great havoc among the enemy forces fleeing through the gap between Bruges and the Dutch frontier.

More cannon have been brought up and all last night and to-day they have been pumping shells into the bottle neck through which the Germans are retreating. The number of Germans killed in this area since yesterday is believed to be tremendous.

To-day's reports include masses of captured documents which have fallen into the hands of the allied soldiers. They treat of all subjects, but one and all they contain a sub-current of despair.

Count Von Waldersee, of the 59th reserve infantry regiment, wrote that he knew his regiment was going to be attacked and warned his men that the attack must be broken down. Incidentally, the assault referred to resulted in the smashing of that regiment.

In many of the towns and localities where the allied troops have swept past, celebrations over their deliverance from the Germans were carried on all day to-day by the people. In Lille there were crowds in the streets, singing and cheering and throwing roses everywhere.

In the neighborhood on Turoing and Roubaix more than 700,000 civilians have been liberated.

LABOR MEN ADDED VOICES

To Appeal That Granite Industry May Keep Its Stride.

Governor Graham recently added his word to the efforts of local labor men in opposing the recommendation of the war industries board that the erection of monuments be discouraged for the duration of the war. The board set forth its views with extreme candor and in a tone which convinced prominent union men here that some action should be taken at once. The statement from the war industries board, as forwarded to the governor of Vermont, is signed by D. R. McLennan, chief of the non-war construction section. Realizing what the effect would be if recommendations were carried out, Governor Graham immediately conferred with members of state and local labor organizations, with the result that President James Duncan of the granite cutters' international union was asked to preside at a hearing in the matter.

To understand what the consequences of the order might be, a reading of the following terms, to be found in the official circular of the war industries board, is informing:

"Where cement is necessary in the linings of graves for the purpose of keeping water out of the graves, the war industries board thinks it entirely proper that this should be allowed.

"The board does not look with favor upon the use of cement for foundations for work for monuments—in fact, it wants to discourage the erection of monuments for the period of the war.

"The war industry board does not look with favor upon the use of cement in the erection of mausoleums. This work also it wants to discourage."

President Duncan convened the conference in the international offices of the union at Quincy a few days ago. Among those attending, besides the governor, were Alexander Ironside, president of the Central Labor union of Barre, and Angus McDonald, secretary of that organization, who substituted for Fred W. Suitor, secretary-treasurer of the Quarry Workers' International union, who was detained by illness, Henry Alexander, president of the granite cutters' Barre branch, was also unable to attend because of illness.

Labor men who have familiarized themselves with the situation agree unanimously that Governor Graham did some splendid work in behalf of Barre's principal industry, and it is encouraging to observe that President Duncan is continuing the interest in behalf of granite workers and granite manufacturers, as well as quarrymen and quarry owners.

FOUR DEATHS IN WATERBURY.

All of Them Were Due to Pneumonia—Another Nurse Secured.

Waterbury, Oct. 19.—Four deaths from pneumonia are reported in the last 24 hours. Fred How, a physiotherapist at the Brabin & Brabin drug store, died yesterday afternoon, leaving his wife and one daughter, Elizabeth. He was 45 years of age and came here a year ago last May from Lebanon, N. H. The remains will be taken to Lebanon for burial.

Miss Edith Robinson, aged 17 years last July and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Robinson of Ferry hill, died yesterday afternoon, after having come home from St. Albans, where she has been attending her brother's relatives. Besides her parents, she leaves two brothers, Harold of St. Albans and Ralph Robinson of Worcester, Mass.

Edward Gingraf, a granite shed employee, died at the Emergency during the night. He leaves his wife and three children. Frank Fontini, another granite shed employee, died at his home after having been at the Emergency hospital for a time. He leaves his wife and two children.

Many people are sick with the malady, including a number who have been working to check the spread. Another nurse was secured from Montpelier to-day, helping out the situation somewhat.

FIGHTING FOR LAST BILLION

To Make the Fourth Liberty Loan Drive Complete Victory

ST. LOUIS DISTRICT OVERSUBSCRIBED

Total Amount Taken in Will Not Be Known for a Week

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—More than a billion dollars is needed to put the fourth Liberty loan over the top. The campaign closes at midnight to-night. Only one of the federal reserve districts—St. Louis, has attained its quota, and only three have passed the three-quarter mark. Atlanta is the lowest with only a little more than half.

Most banks over the country will remain open late to-night to receive last-minute subscriptions, but there is no probability of the complete amount of the loan being known until late next week. This very fact has caused officials to impress upon the people that they must not hold back subscription in the belief that the loan would be oversubscribed. Every dollar is needed to put the loan over the top, they declare.

BARRE MUST RAISE

$75,000 BEFORE NIGHT

To Bring the City Up to Its Quota in the Fourth Liberty Loan—Hurry

Call Sent Out.

With only $325,000 of its $400,000 quota subscribed, Barre must make a supreme effort this afternoon to close the gap. The fourth Liberty loan committee is straining every nerve to carry the city over the top, but its efforts will go for naught unless there is a real response in the last half-day of the campaign. As the zero hour approaches, there must be a quickening of effort all along the line. Granite manufacturers are served with a notice that they should report their returns as early as possible this afternoon, that the banks may be in a position to tabulate the returns to-night. That this be done is absolutely necessary, and the committee representing the four banks combine in this final appeal for prompt action.

The sum of $75,000 must be added to the noon-total before 9 o'clock to-night, when the banks close and the campaign ends. Those who have not subscribed are urged to go to their bank and take a bond, or as many bonds as they are able to take. If the canvassers, in their house-to-house drive Thursday, inadvertently failed to approach you, remember that you are not absolved from responsibility and that you are expected to do your part by reporting at a bank for a subscription.

Barre Town was safely over the top yesterday. This morning the good news came that Williamstown had subscribed its quota, and if there are other towns in this vicinity where the quota is still separated from the total by a gulf of unpledged dollars, the time for making good the deficiency is not lost. Here in the city, the committee reemphasizes, there must be subscriptions enough during the afternoon and evening to make up the necessary $75,000, else Barre, for the first time in a war drive, will fail to register loyalty of the 100 per cent quality.

NORTHFIELD FLYING A FLAG.

Has Gone Far Over Its Quota in Liberty Loan Drive.

Northfield, Oct. 19.—Northfield's honor flag in the Liberty loan drive was unfurled over the Northfield National bank to-day in reward for the town's oversubscribing its quota of $120,000. The total subscribed to date is $144,000, from 376 subscribers. This does not include $62,299 pledged by 124 students at Norwich university. There is some doubt whether this latter amount can be counted in Northfield's list, and pending decision on the matter the Norwich students' sum is kept separate.

IN Milder FORM.

The Grip Epidemic Is Manifesting Itself—Only One Death.

Influenza continues to loosen its grip on Barre, and in towns near by cheering news comes that the epidemic which settled down over central Vermont, among other areas, three weeks ago is disappearing. Dr. O. G. Stickney, secretary of the local board of health, said this morning that very few cases had developed during the week and his observation confirmed that of other physicians that everywhere in this district the disease is manifesting itself in a milder form than heretofore. Only one death was reported over night.

Much pressure is being brought to bear on the health authorities for lifting the quarantine. The secretary of the local board, in commenting on the situation, said that a number of people had urged the board to lift the lid this week. It is an open secret that an early abandonment of the quarantine is anticipated, but nothing that the secretary has to say indicates that the restrictions will be removed before Monday or Tuesday, and it is improbable that the schools will reopen for another week. Churches will remain closed to-morrow, but if the ban is lifted next week, public worship may be resumed one week from to-morrow. Extension of the quarantine, according to the board of health, is largely a precautionary measure, and in explaining the situation, it is stated by the secretary that influenza easily may recur, and that the first purpose of the board is to prevent, if possible, any recurrence of the epidemic on the scale recently experienced.
